

Question 1

Hana graduated in the Faculty of Commerce last year, but up till now she hasn't decided on a banking

- position
- career
- work
- job

Question 2

Some students find difficulty when they from one language to another.

- transform
- transmit
- stimulate
- translate

Question 3

I..... that there are at least 50 names on the list. They may be more or less.

- calculated
- estimated
- regarded
- counted

Question 4

The room is ten metres wide, it's really

- board
- broad
- aboard
- abroad

Question 5

The word "imagination" is an antonym for the word

- creation
- fancy
- quality
- reality

Question 6

It's a must to have an operation. The word " a must" here means.....

- prohibition
- deduction
- probability
- necessity

Question 7

I have a for the exam. It contains a few pages.

- booklet
- pamphlet
- brochure
- leaflet

Question 8

I really pity mother because she had a broken leg when she..... off the stairs.

- stressed
- slipped
- sliced
- stayed

Question 9

Students in STEM schools must research regularly.

- make
- give
- put
- do

Question 10

When you are nervous, you control of yourself.

- miss
- lose
- take
- give

Question 11

I went to the airport a taxi.

- on
- by
- in
- at

Question 12

..... his test results, Omar hurried to phone his father.

- Have known
- Has known
- Known
- Knowing

Question 13

The dogs..... everyone in the neighbourhood.

- has woken up
- are woken up
- have woken up
- is woken up

Question 14

Egypt's energy supply increase after discovering a new natural gas field in Sinai.

- is going to
- has
- will
- will be

Question 15

Mother said to her son, "" "

- To forget not to take his medicine
- Don't forget to take your medicine
- Not to forget to take his medicine
- Not to forget to take your medicine

Question 16

A: Do you know what

B: It's three o' clock.

- the times are
- the time is
- are the time
- is the time

Question 17

A: Do you know what

B: It's three o' clock.

- the times are
- the time is
- are the time
- is the time

Question 18

Read the following passage, then answer the question below:

Book lovers will be sad to hear that the owner of Morton's, the famous bookshop, have announced its closure. The owners have been selling its books for more than 50 years and it will be missed.

Robert Morton said that they have to close because of financial circumstances. They have fought tooth and nail to keep the shop open. "Bankruptcy has been staring us in the face and we wanted to act before we had to call in the receiver", he said. "We must acknowledge that we have reached the end of the road. This is the first time that we have been in a tight corner."

On previous occasions, we managed to cope until things improved financially. A few years ago, we had no difficulty selling either the business or the building. Now we have given up trying to find an owner for the business and the building is still on the market. There is no demand for commercial property in the centre of the town.

People prefer to shop at the shopping complexes out of town where there is plenty of parking space and where they get a large selection of goods in a relatively small area besides the cost of maintaining property in the town centre is going up. Town centre shops are facing an uncertain future.

The main idea of the passage is "" . "

- The Mortons are passive owners
- Closure of a local bookshop
- The efforts exerted by the government to save the bookshop
- Town centre shops are overcrowded

Question 19

Read the following passage, then answer the question below:

Book lovers will be sad to hear that the owner of Morton's, the famous bookshop, have announced its closure. The owners have been selling its books for more than 50 years and it will be missed.

Robert Morton said that they have to close because of financial circumstances. They have fought tooth and nail to keep the shop open. "Bankruptcy has been staring us in the face and we wanted to act before we had to call in the receiver", he said. "We must acknowledge that we have reached the end of the road. This is the first time that we have been in a tight corner."

On previous occasions, we managed to cope until things improved financially. A few years ago, we had no difficulty selling either the business or the building. Now we have given up trying to find an owner for the business and the building is still on the market. There is no demand for commercial property in the centre of the town.

People prefer to shop at the shopping complexes out of town where there is plenty of parking space and where they get a large selection of goods in a relatively small area besides the cost of maintaining property in the town centre is going up. Town centre shops are facing an uncertain future.

The Mortons couldn't save their business as

- nobody is ready to purchase shops in the town centre
- lots of people are willing to buy shops in the town centre
- prices of shops in the town centre are getting cheap
- parking areas are enough in the town centre

Question 20

Read the following passage, then answer the question below:

Book lovers will be sad to hear that the owner of Morton's, the famous bookshop, have announced its closure. The owners have been selling its books for more than 50 years and it will be missed.

Robert Morton said that they have to close because of financial circumstances. They have fought tooth and nail to keep the shop open. "Bankruptcy has been staring us in the face and we wanted to act before we had to call in the receiver", he said. "We must acknowledge that we have reached the end of the road. This is the first time that we have been in a tight corner."

On previous occasions, we managed to cope until things improved financially. A few years ago, we had no difficulty selling either the business or the building. Now we have given up trying to find an owner for the business and the building is still on the market. There is no demand for commercial property in the centre of the town.

People prefer to shop at the shopping complexes out of town where there is plenty of parking space and where they get a large selection of goods in a relatively small area besides the cost of maintaining property in the town centre is going up. Town centre shops are facing an uncertain future.

The underlined phrase "they have fought tooth and nail" means that the Mortons.....

- wanted the town centre to be cleared of shops
- asked someone to finance them to solve the problem
- tried hard to keep their bookshop open
- asked the government for a loan to set up business

Question 21

Read the following passage, then answer the question below:

Book lovers will be sad to hear that the owner of Morton's, the famous bookshop, have announced its closure. The owners have been selling its books for more than 50 years and it will be missed.

Robert Morton said that they have to close because of financial circumstances. They have fought tooth and nail to keep the shop open. "Bankruptcy has been staring us in the face and we wanted to act before we had to call in the receiver", he said. "We must acknowledge that we have reached the end of the road. This is the first time that we have been in a tight corner."

On previous occasions, we managed to cope until things improved financially. A few years ago, we had no difficulty selling either the business or the building. Now we have given up trying to find an owner for the business and the building is still on the market. There is no demand for commercial property in the centre of the town.

People prefer to shop at the shopping complexes out of town where there is plenty of parking space and where they get a large selection of goods in a relatively small area besides the cost of maintaining property in the town centre is going up. Town centre shops are facing an uncertain future.

Which of the following ideas is NOT mentioned in the passage?

- The future holds little hope for town centre shops.
- Book lovers are suffering from the Mortons.
- People like to shop at malls out of town.
- Lack of money leads to business destruction.

Question 22

Read the following passage, then answer the question below:

Book lovers will be sad to hear that the owner of Morton's, the famous bookshop, have announced its closure. The owners have been selling its books for more than 50 years and it will be missed.

Robert Morton said that they have to close because of financial circumstances. They have fought tooth and nail to keep the shop open. "Bankruptcy has been staring us in the face and we wanted to act before we had to call in the receiver", he said. "We must acknowledge that we have reached the end of the road. This is the first time that we have been in a tight corner."

On previous occasions, we managed to cope until things improved financially. A few years ago, we had no difficulty selling either the business or the building. Now we have given up trying to find an owner for the business and the building is still on the market. There is no demand for commercial property in the centre of the town.

People prefer to shop at the shopping complexes out of town where there is plenty of parking space and where they get a large selection of goods in a relatively small area besides the cost of maintaining property in the town centre is going up. Town centre shops are facing an uncertain future.

Explain why business in the town centre shops is exposed to danger. Mention TWO reasons.

B / I / U |

0 / 10000 Word Limit

Question 25

Translate into Arabic

A few languages, including Latin and Egyptian, have lasted more than 2.000 years. So, nothing stays longer in our minds than the language we inherit.

B I U ☰ ☷
0 / 10000 Word Limit

Question 26

Translate into English

في ضوء إعلانكم عن وظيفة مترجم يجيد اللغتين الإنجليزية و الألمانية بطلاقة ، أشرف بتقديم سيرتي الذاتية لكم آملاً ان اكون عضواً فعالاً في شركتكم.

B I U ☰ ☷
0 / 10000 Word Limit

Question 27

Write an essay of about 150 words on ONE of the following topics:

- 1- Sports strengthen the ties and relationships among countries.
- 2- A book you have recently read.

B I U ☰ ☷
0 / 10000 Word Limit